DETAILED ACTION

Status of Claims

Claims 1-14, 21, 22, 24, and 31-41 are cancelled.

Claims 15-20, 23, 25-32, and 42-44 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 15-20, 23, 25-32, and 42-44 and are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 as being unpatentable over Ersek USPN 3,657,744 in view of Lazarus et al. USPN 5,562,728.

Ersek discloses the invention substantially as claimed being a valve comprising a flexible sleeve (the outer portion of the valve sutured to the support) having 3 cusps 46, and a balloon expandable ring attached to the outside of its proximal end wherein the sleeve is not inverted shown best in figures 4 and 8. In regards to the ring, Ersek discloses a plurality of zigzag shaped support rings that each are shorter than the length of the sleeve. Ersek further discloses that the heart valve can be positioned at a variety of positions at the end of the device. This would allow one zigzag portion to be positioned according to the applicant's invention.

However, Ersek does not disclose the fastener member extending from the ring comprising a pair of legs with sharp ends.

Lazarus teaches the use of a support comprising a plurality of fasteners 151 attached to a zigzag shaped ring comprising a pair of legs having sharp ends (Figures 11-13) in the same field of endeavor for the purpose of piercing and anchoring the device into the surrounding tissue.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the fasteners taught by Lazarus with the device of Ersek in order to provide better attachment to the implant site.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to all claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. However in order to advance prosecution the applicant is advised to amend the claims to limit the structure to only have 1 ring and to better define the length of the sleeve.
